RE: Mod2016/0293 - 80 Evans Street FRESHWATER NSW 2096

Objecting to the extended construction hours at the hardboard diggers. There is already enough disruption on a daily basis with the existing hours, extending these hours would impact the quality of life to all those living in close proximity to the construction site. We're sympathetic to the project and its eventual benefit to its members however we already have enough indirect work in keeping our apartment clean on a weekly basis as it is, and we really don't want to have to listen to construction whilst relaxing after our days work has finished, during dinner and on the weekend. The existing Saturday construction is sufficiently loud already so that it wakes us early on a Saturday morning. As renters of the property we now have to spend an hour every Saturday morning cleaning our balcony and washing the windows to remove the significant amount of dust that builds up during the week with no compensation for these additional tasks on top of a rental increase too! As the strata rules only allow balcony and window cleaning between 7:30am and 7:45am on a Saturday with extended hours we would permanently be living with construction dust as there would be no opportunity for it to be removed.
