Re "Coast Palm Beach"

I really look forward to be able to sit and have lunch with some local friends at this cafe. I love the fact that the owners and staff are local, the food is delicious, the place has great feeling, with its outdoor terraces, it is friendly and welcoming . As a local person who lives alone, it is so good to be able to grab lunch and catch up unexpectedly with other local I know, a good meeting place with value for money , by the way they make the best coffee on the peninsula. We really need that place to cater for a few more people than originally as 4 other venues in Palm Beach are owned by one consortium, and are very expensive , Coast represent , value for money, nice menu, friendly service..... just what we need for the locals and the tourists..... casual, with a trendy touch and of course that little Greek feel which sends your mind travelling
