These markets are extremely important to our community. The fresh organic produce that is being sold supports our local farmers in a time when they need it most. It also gives family's the option of buying healthy fresh food from trusted farmers. the jobs it provides and lively hood for all involved is vital. As a community we need our markets to keep running. Being a working mum that only has the weekends to do my shopping it is an essential part of my family's life. We love spending our Sunday morning at the markets, seeing our regular stall holders and getting the beautiful produce that's available.
