To whom it may concern,

I have reviewed the "revised" plans for the building proposed next door to Barrenjoey House and can only conclude that the developers have no intention of responding to the community concerns regarding the building's failure to sustain the aesthetic of this loved area. The proposed building still exceeds the height restriction for the site and still overwhelms the streetscape.

I urge the planning panel to reject the revised application as it is a mockery that treats with disdain Council planning controls as well as the interests and concerns of the community

Sincerely

Gail Broady
