We refer to the judgment of Commissioner Brown in Stockland and anor v Manly Council [2009] NSWLEC 1145.

The enclosed modification applications seek to modify the plastic bag and plastic packaging conditions (ANS01 and ANS02) currently contained in the development consents for these retail tenancies.

Fees

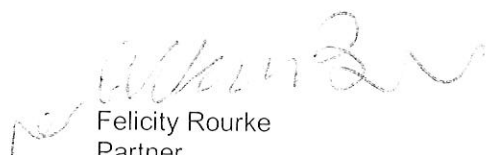

In light of the findings of Commissioner Brown in Stockland and anor v Manly Council, the conditions originally imposed cannot be sustained. The modification applications seek to bring conditions of the above consents into line with the judgment. In this situation it is entirely appropriate for Council exercise its discretion to waive the application fees that would otherwise be payable for the section 96(1A) modification applications, and we request that Council waive the fees.

Urgency

As retail trading is due to commence on 15 June 2009, we respectfully request that Council consider and determine the enclosed section 96(1A) modification applications as a matter of urgency.

Please contact Deacons if you require any further information in support of the applications.

Yours faithfully
