With respect, we have not been contacted for consultation on any of these works. The new garage is right up against my back yard and it seems to me that this addition is way over the site cover and FSR. I cannot see the height or type of construction from the exhibited plans. At this stage I cannot endorse the garage addition with the limited drawing provided. Could the planner please provide me with verification of site coverage, because it seems way over. I am more than happy to discuss this with the planner.
