Statement of significance: Completed in 1949 to a design by internationally recognised Sydney architect Harry Seidler, Fink House at 153 Queens Parade East in Newport, has historic and aesthetic significance as an early example of Late Twentieth-Century Sydney Regional architecture demonstrating key modernist features including almost flat skillion roof, bright coloured door panels, exposed concrete structure, horizontal emphasis and open plan. Physical description Fink House is one-storey, flat roof, white painted weekender designed in a U-shape and located on a sloping site, it takes advantage of the land's topography. The front and back sections of the roof slope towards the centre of the house. The house is similar in plan to the Rose Seidler House with the exception of a broken or 'butterfly' roof form as its roof is closer to a flat roof with a shallow pitch.
