Updated information in relation to DA2021/0356 | 32 Reddall Street, Manly

Dear Alex,

Further to our discussion last week and submission of the final drawing set for consideration and determination, an error in relation to a single window has been spotted and since corrected.

The window in question is in the north-eastern corner of the first floor master suite, and is now in the correct proportions/dimensions compared to the set sent to you last week.

Although all drawings have been re-dated to reflect 1 December 2021, the only two drawings which show this change are;

- DA-05-Plans_ FF + Roof;
- DA-06-Elevations;

All re-dated drawings been uploaded to the Planning Portal.

To summarise, the following amendment is made in this drawing set;

- The window facing north in the north-eastern corner of the first floor master suite was previously 900mm long, and is now 1500mm long.

My apologies for this late change – hopefully the re-dated drawings are able to form the set for consideration on 15 December 2021.

Regards,
