RE: DA2017/1274 Amended.
Land & Environment Court 2018/00257108

Dear Sir,

On 22 August 1788 Governor Phillip and Surgeon White, accompanied by two other officers as six soldiers, set out from Manly to walk to Pittwater which they reached at noon on the 23rd. They then proceeded north along the sea coast before returning on the 24th and 25th. Surgeon White's journal for the 24th and 25th of August 1788 will take the reader directly to the site of the proposed development. It would be a travesty to destroy the rare historic value of this site where we can use a First Fleet journal to not only walk in the footsteps of modern Australia's founders, but see it in significant part as they saw it.
