RE: DA2020/1756 - 353 Barrenjoey Road NEWPORT NSW 2106

To Whom It May Concern,

I have recently been made aware that the developers of the above property have submitted amendments to the above DA. I have reviewed the amended variations, reports etc and can't see any valid reason to vary my original objections this proposal, particularly the ridiculously intrusive vehicle access proposed for Robertson Road, negating the requirements of the Newport Master Plan, and the proposed destruction of major native tress, notably located on public (Council) land!!

I also further note Council's own expert panel, the Design and Sustainability Advisory Panel, and their recommendations against the DA. This amended plan explicitly denies the panels advice. So, if that is what Council's own experts say, who can oppose them?

Regards,
