RE: DA2018/0149 - 60 Binalong Avenue ALLAMBIE HEIGHTS NSW 2100

I can't believe this is still a discussion point. This is Allambie Heights and not Dee Why. There is no density similar to it in the area. These apartments are micro and the design and size of the building is completely out of character for this beautiful suburban area. The extra traffic flow that will occur down my side st Goondari will be significant. With 30+ apartments comes with it possibly 60 cars. Where are they all going to park ? I have worked in real estate for 14 years and I know these developers are taking advantage of a loop hole that needs to be closed. If this get approved watch the developers flock to area in droves as residents that fit the criteria will be selling up.
