Dear Lashta Haidari,

Can you please amend my previous submission - the amend version as follows:
My great, great uncle, Captain John Cussons (see Google) who was a scout in the Confederate Army in the USA, spent 4 years living with the Sioux in the 1860's. His legacy has been passed down in our family for generations in that we need to conserve wherever possible, our wildlife. He was appalled at the mass slaughter of the buffalo and mass settlement without concern for the future. He always pursued conservation wherever possible, before settlement and development in the name of progress. He was ahead of his time. Mother Earth is oversubscribed and overpopulated and daily, we have global extinctions - all in the name of progress. As mostly, the greed factor is the driving force. Once this piece of land is gone, it is lost forever. What is life on earth without the animals - nothing. I, John Cawood Cussons urge the authorities to think very carefully the consequences prior to making any decision as once this piece of land is gone, it is gone. It is lost forever.
