Dear Stephanie,

In making this submission to suggest a different wall between the properties.

Your powdered coated wall would be hot & limit the breeze to our side of our house. Could you just paint the lattice or come up with a wall that breeze could flow through.

Also if you're intending to paint the entrance car way to our house a dark colour could you add reflective lights so we can see backing in to that tight driveway.

Thank you in advance

Vivien Sterrantino
